To book

Phone us on the boat phone 07977 594649 or e mail us first to check we still have a space available.

We like to speak to everyone before they book and we do not take bookings on the basis of e mail contact alone.

Next go to the 'how to book' page on our web site and follow the instructions there. Make sure to read our 'terms and conditions' which contain important health and travel insurance information.

Do not send a deposit until you have checked that we still have spaces left on the voyage you have chosen.

Do not book flights or make travel arrangements until we have confirmed your booking in writing.

You must have a good level of fitness to sail on Trinovante. You are booking a voyage on a sail training vessel not a ferry or a 'coach trip on a boat experience'. Some of our voyages involve offshore sailing which can be both physically and mentally challenging, especially in rough weather that can be encountered on any voyage or taster weekend. You will be participating fully in all aspects of training and sailing as an active member of the crew.

Schoonersail does not take non participants. Trinovante operates on a 24hour watch system on all voyages over 10 hours and you will be expected to stand watches. You must be able to climb a 5 metre vertical ladder unaided (you are not expected to work aloft but you will have to negotiate dock side ladders) and feel confident to jump down from a height of 0.75 metre (2.5 feet). As a general guideline a good level of agility is much more important than overall physical strength or aerobic fitness. Many of the places Trinovante sails to are very remote and well off the beaten track and there are no marina type facilities with gangways etc. Berthing is often in commercial docks and quays and you will have to tackle dockside ladders and climbing over other boats to get on and off the boat.

If you are in any doubt as to the suitability or what to expect from any one of our voyages give us a ring on the boat phone and have a chat. You will be talking to the skipper or mate who have sailed in these waters before and can tell you exactly what's involved .

Do be clear that Trinovante is not a 'pull on a rope if you want to' boat. You will be booking a full participation adventure sailing holiday. You are the crew!
